Chris Zambri

Head Coach • 5th Year

- 2008 GCAA/Pacific Region/Pac-10 Coach of the Year
- 2007 and 2011 Pac-10 Champions
- Winner of 11 tournaments to date
- 11 individual tournament wins to date

Chris Zambri, a former USC All-Pac-10 performer and longtime Nationwide Tour veteran, is in his fifth year as USC's men's golf head coach. In a short amount of time, Zambri has established himself as among the top coaches in the nation and has taken his team to the NCAA Championships final in each of his first four years.

Zambri's teams have won 11 events, including Pac-10 titles in 2007 and 2011 and an NCAA Regional in 2008. His 2008 team came within three strokes of first place at the NCAA Championships. Trojan golfers have also won 11 individual crowns under Zambri.

Zambri directed the 2009-2010 squad deep into the postseason despite fielding a team often relying on three freshmen and a sophomore in many events. Junior Matt Giles (the team's only upperclassmen) and freshman T.J. Vogel, a 2010 NGCA Freshman All-American and Pac-10 Co-Freshman of the Year, helped lead USC to seven top 5 finishes, including a third at the Pac-10 Championships and a second at the NCAA Regional in Washington that sent USC to the NCAA Final for the fourth year in a row. Following the season, Zambri served as head coach for the U.S. team that defeated Europe, 13-11, to claim the 2010 Palmer Cup, America's first win since 2002.

In the 2008-2009 season, Zambri directed a squad that featured three All-Americans in Giles, Tom Glissmeyer and Tim Sluiter. Giles was also the 2009 Pac-10 Player of the Year. The Trojans, who won two tournaments on the year, advanced past the NCAA Championships strokeplay stage into the eight-team match-play competition before falling in the quarterfinals.

After a highly successful 2007-2008 season, Zambri was named the 2008 GCAA National, the Pacific Region and the Pac-10 Coach of the Year. The honors came on the heels of a stellar campaign that saw USC finish just three strokes short of winning its first-ever NCAA title. As it was, USC finished third at the NCAA Championships (something Troy hadn't done since 1975). USC won four tournaments on the season (all within its final seven events), including its first ever NCAA Regional championship. Troy also tied for first at the Pac-10 Championships (but fell in a playoff). Sophomores Jamie Lovemark and Rory Hie were tabbed as All-American first teamers while Glissmeyer, Sluiter and Giles all earned All-American honorable mention honors. It was the first time in school history USC featured five All-Americans. Lovemark and Hie also marked the first time USC had two All-American first teamers in one season.

In his first season as head coach, Zambri guided USC to an appearance in the 2007 NCAA Championships and the Trojans' 18th Pac-10 team title.

At the NCAA Championships, Lovemark, then a freshman, became Troy's fourth NCAA individual champion. Lovemark earned the Arnold Palmer (national championship individual medalist), Jack Nicklaus (national player of the year) and Phil Mickelson (nation's outstanding freshman) Awards and was tabbed a Ping All-American first teamer. Lovemark earlier became USC's 20th Pac-10 individual champion while four other Trojans finished in the top 10 en route to the team crown. Lovemark was named Pac-10 Co-Golfer and Freshman of the Year honors while fellow freshman Rory Hie was tabbed a Pac-10 second teamer. On the season, the Trojans posted 12 top 5 finishes and six in the top 2.

Zambri, 39, played six years on the Nationwide Tour and was an active teaching professional when he was not competing.

A 1993 USC graduate who played for the Trojans from 1989 to 1993, Zambri played six seasons on the Nationwide Tour between 1997 and 2004. He finished as high as 19th on the circuit's money list in 1998, posting two second-place finishes that year. He competed in four PGA Tour events as well as the 1995 and 1999 U.S. Opens. As a Trojan, he was a two-time All-Pac-10 second team selection in 1991 and 1993.

"This is the opportunity of a lifetime," said Zambri when he was hired. "I look forward to not only bringing championships to USC, but to influencing the young people on the team in positive ways on and off the golf course."

Zambri is married to Kim Zambri and they have three children: Wyatt, 12, Joseph, 8, and Laney, 6.

SCHUETTE ON ZAMBRI:

"Coach Zambri has already made an impact on our team and the players' games. His experiences in tournament competition has helped him become an outstanding coach. He is passionate about helping our players improve and having USC at the top of the leader board. He has focused on recruiting and coaching in a way that will lead to developing champions and championships for Trojan golf."

Josh Brewer

Assistant Coach • Third Year

Josh Brewer, who owns more than a decade of collegiate golf experience as a successful player, instructor and recruiter, is in his third year as a USC men's and women's golf assistant coach.

Brewer came to USC after spending the previous six seasons (2003-08) as an assistant men's golf coach at his alma mater, Indiana.

"Josh has a wide array of competitive, coaching and recruiting experience at the Division I level," USC Director of Golf Kurt Schuette said. "His experience and commitment will immediately contribute to our mission of developing champions and championships."

"Now that NCAA rules allow us to have two coaches recruiting and coaching simultaneously, he will complete our staff of four coaches in a combined program. I am confident Josh will prove to be a tremendous asset to our men's and women's golf teams."

In his short time at USC, Brewer has helped guide five women's and three men's All-Americans (and a men's freshman All-American) as well as two women's and one men's Pac-10 Players of the Year and a men's and women's Pac-10 Freshman of the Year.

Brewer was a 2011 finalist for the Jan Strickland Award presented by TaylorMade-adidas Golf, given by the GCAA to the nation's top assistant. He was a semifinalist

During Brewer's six years with the Hoosiers, Indiana made four trips to the NCAA Championships (2004-06, 2008). Its berth in the NCAA Finals this past season was its first since 1996.

Also during Brewer's tenure at Indiana, the Hoosiers won 11 team titles and claimed a runner-up finish at the 2005 Big Ten Championships. He helped guide Jorge Campillo and Jeff Overton to Big Ten Championships individual titles and Big Ten Player of the Year and All-American honors in 2008 and 2005, respectively. Campillo tied for second at the 2008 NCAA Championships while Overton has been a PGA Tour member since 2006.

Brewer played four years at Indiana (1995-98), helping the Hoosiers reach the 1996 NCAA Finals, the 1997 NCAA Regionals and the 1998 Big Ten Championship crown. He was a two-time All-American Scholar Team selection (1997-98) and a three-year Academic All-Big-Ten honoree (1996-98).

The Hoosier-state native graduated from Indiana in 1998 with a degree in Business Management. Following graduation, he erased a nine-shot deficit to win the Indiana Amateur Championship that year and then began a three-year stint as a financial advisor before beginning his career as a coach. He also recently completed a Master's of Kinesiology from Indiana.

Born Sept. 17, 1975, Brewer is married to the former Selena Offredo.

Kurt Schuette

USC DIRECTOR OF GOLF • 17TH SEASON

2001 Pac-10 Coach of the Year • Winner of Three Pac-10 Championships 20-time NCAA qualifier (15 NCAA finals with teams or individuals)

The 2010-2011 season is Kurt Schuette's 17th season at USC. He began his career at USC as the men's team head coach and was quickly promoted to Director of Golf to oversee the men's and women's teams. It is with great ambition and purpose that Schuette took the new position. From the beginning, his goal has been for Trojan Golf to be the program by which all others are measured. Each year both teams have steadily made progress towards this goal.

The 2010 season was another strong one for the Trojans. The women's team, led by All-Americans Jennifer Song and Lizette Salas, finished one stroke out of first at the NCAA Championships. The squad won four events on the season, including the NCAA Central Regional title. The men's squad reached the NCAA finals for the fifth year in a row, led by T.J. Vogel, who earned Freshman All-American honors, and Steve Lim, who earned All-Pac-10 honors.

In 2009, the men's and women's golf programs were among the top in the nation for the second year in a row. The women's squad finished third at the NCAA Championships after fighting for the title all tournament and Song, Salas and Belén Mozo all earned All-American honors. The men's squad featured three All-Americans in Matt Giles, Tom Glissmeyer and Tim Sluiter. The Trojans advanced past the NCAA Championships strokeplay stage into the eight-team match-play competition before falling in the quarterfinals.

The 2008 season was perhaps the finest combined men's and women's campaigns in school history. The women's team won its second NCAA title, its third consecutive NCAA Regional title, its first Pac-10 title in almost two decades and featured five All-Americans (Mozo, Dewi Claire Schreefel, Paola Moreno, Salas and Stefanie Endstrasser). Moreno also won the individual Pac-10 title while USC won its final four events of the season.

The men's squad came within three strokes of winning its first-ever NCAA title. As it was, USC finished third at the NCAA Championships (something USC hadn't done since 1975). USC won four tournaments on the season (all within its final seven events), including its first ever NCAA Regional championship. Troy also tied for first at the Pac-10 Championships (but fell in a playoff). Sophomores Jamie Lovemark and Rory Hie were tabbed as All-American first teamers while Glissmeyer, Sluiter and Giles all earned All-American honorable mention honors. It was the first time in school history USC featured five All-Americans. Lovemark and Hie also marked the first time USC had two All-American first teamers in one season.

In 2007, the Trojan men returned to the NCAA Championships final for the fourth time in the past five years, enjoying NCAA postseason action for the 18th year in a row. Lovemark, as a freshman, became USC's third NCAA Championship individual title winner and also led USC to its 18th Pac-10 Championship while winning the conference individual crown as well.

In 2006, Taylor Wood represented the Trojans at the 2006 NCAA Championships when he finished tied for 27th while competing individually.

In 2005, USC made it to the NCAA Championships for the third straight season. Its sixth-place finish that year was the Trojans' best since taking fifth in 1995.

In 2002, USC won its first back-to-back conference championship since 1972-73. It was yet another milestone in the re-establishment of USC as a national golf power.

The Trojans have been moving up from the moment Schuette came to USC in 1994-95. That year, Schuette directed the USC men's golf team well beyond expectations, all the way to a fifth-place finish at the 1995 NCAA Championships, and he earned District VIII Coach of the Year honors (Pac-10, Big West and WCC).

It was USC's highest national finish in 20 years and the eight strokes that separated USC from the championship matched the closest Troy has ever been to the national title. Then in 1995-96, he led the Trojan men's team to its second consecutive Top 10 finish with a ninth-place showing at the NCAAs. And under his guidance, Brian Hull earned first-team All-American honors. Schuette was also honored by being selected to serve on the NCAA District VIII Advisory Committee.

In 1996-97, Schuette kept the Trojans ranked between No. 3 and No. 7 all year with three All-Americans in the lineup and eventually finished 14th at the NCAAs.

After graduating six players, his young men's teams didn't qualify for the NCAA Finals in 1997-98 or 1998-99 (Jorge Corral did qualify as an individual in '99), but they rebounded nicely in 1999-2000, finishing fourth at the NCAA West Regional to qualify for the NCAA Finals at Opelika, Ala. Although they missed the cut at that tourney, the Trojans showed the mettle once again to compete at the highest levels of collegiate golf.

In 2001 and 2002, Schuette led the Trojans to consecutive Pac-10 titles, while helping coach Hunter Mahan--the 2001 Pac-10 Freshman of the Year--and Kevin Stadler--the 2002 Pac-10 Golfer of the Year--to All-American honors.

Schuette was elevated to Director of Golf at USC in 1996. Under his direction and the hard work of outstanding women's coach Andrea Gaston, the USC women's golf program has also blossomed into one of the top programs in the country. USC has made 11 straight NCAA Championship final appearances, winning the team title in 2003 and 2008, finishing among the top four five of the past seven years and among the top 10 in eight of the past 10 years.

In 2007, junior Paola Moreno earned All-American first team honors while Mozo, as a freshman, was tabbed an All-American honorable mention pick.

In 2006, Schreefel, as a sophomore, became USC's third NCAA individual title winner and joined 2006 Women's Golf Honda Award winner Irene Cho as an All-American first team selection. Schreefel was also an All-American honorable mention pick in 2005.

In 2003, the Women of Troy had a magical season, winning the first-ever NCAA team golf title, senior Mikaela Parmlid won the NCAA individual title, while Cho was an honorable mention All-American selection.

In 2002, the Women of Troy placed 14th at the NCAAs and both Parmlid and Becky Lucidi were named to All-American teams. In back to back summers, Candie Kung won the U.S. Women's Pub Links and Lucidi won the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship. In 2000-01, the USC women finished seventh again as Kung made All-American for the second season.

In 2000, the Women of Troy finished fourth at the NCAAs and were led by All-American and Pac-10 Champion Kung, then a freshman.

In 1999, the Women of Troy won the NCAA West Regional, then finished seventh at the NCAA Finals. Sophomore Jennifer Rosales placed fourth and was named Collegiate Player of the Year.

The 1998 Women of Troy finished seventh at the NCAA Championships, but the highlight of the season was Rosales, then a freshman, winning USC's first-ever women's NCAA individual title in only her sixth collegiate tournament.

Schuette has laid a great foundation for Trojan Golf. However, he views it as just that -- a foundation. Schuette feels that the opportunities for Trojan Golf are limitless, and that both the men's and women's programs will continue to grow stronger every year.

In a recent annual ranking, Golf Digest ranked the USC women's golf team 3rd and the men's golf team 5th in their balanced ranking, which accounted for strength of both the academic program and the golf program. Furthermore, USC ranked No. 1 among private universities in the balanced category for men and No. 2 for women. The Trojans have created a standard of excellence both on the golf course and in the classroom.

By maintaining an environment that fosters learning and development for team members and coaches, Trojan Golf will become the program by which all others are measured.

The growth of Trojan Golf during the Kurt Schuette era:

- Established cornerstone coaching standards for Trojan Golf:
  - * The best interests of our team and our student-athletes are considered first and foremost.
  - * Create a competitive and fun environment in practice and with a national tournament schedule.
  - * Create a culture of learning that is comprehensive in nature and to develop student-athletes into confident decision makers which will allow them to ambitiously pursue their dreams and career objectives.
  - * Create a gameplan to achieve short and long-term goals. Evaluate progress, make necessary adjustments, be persistent with core values and beliefs.
  - * Use experiences to challenge, learn and grow as a person and as a competitor. Be prepared mentally and physically to deal with all challenges.
  - * Operate as a family and team, being respectful, yet determined and steadfast in our goals.
  - * Play a smart, aggressive brand of golf, tailored to each player's individual strengths and work to minimize challenges.
  - * See obstacles as an opportunity to build and improve. There is no challenge too great to conquer when you approach it intelligently and from the best possible perspective.
- Created an on campus practice green, bunker and chipping area for exclusive use by golf team members
- Secured sponsorships which enabled Trojan Golf to purchase memberships for team members at Riviera Country Club and Wilshire Country Club, two of Los Angeles' finest private golf clubs
- Started the Trojan Golf Club (Booster Club)
- Organizes an annual fundraiser, the Trojan Golf Classic
- Developed the 'Coaches Council,' which raises $300,000 or more annually. Schuette has raised more than $10 million during his tenure at USC.
- Facilitated the growth of the Trojan Golf Fantasy, a tournament in which donors get an opportunity to play with current team members and former USC Golf Team Members who are now competing on LPGA, PGA, and Champions Tours. This event is also fantastic for team members in that they get a tremendous opportunity to talk with and ask questions of the golf professionals.

"We are very serious about elevating both our programs to a championship level," Schuette said. "Our goal here is to succeed at whatever we do. We are striving to continue to win Pac-10 titles and our first men's team NCAA Championship. We are also proud to say we have recently had success with former players earning both PGA and LPGA Tour cards. All this is part of our mission to become the program by which all others are measured. Our philosophy is to develop smart, aggressive competitors who are confident, independent decision makers."

Schuette, 48, came to USC after six successful seasons (1988-94) at Pepperdine. During his tenure in Malibu, he led the Waves to four WCC crowns and was the 1993 WCC Coach of the Year and Pepperdine athletic department Coach of the Year. His teams were ranked as high as 16th in the nation and the 1993 team participated in the school's first-ever NCAA Golf Championship. Schuette recruited four of the five players on the Pepperdine team that won the 1997 NCAA championship.

In 1986 and 1988, Schuette served as an assistant coach for the Waves, while gaining experience in the private sector, working as an instructor at the Santa Barbara Golf Club and the North Ranch Country Club. In 1994, he was hired as USC head coach and he quickly built the program into not only the top team in Southern California, but a national contender.

One of the greatest benefits of USC is that the relationship with the players goes far beyond their years at USC. Schuette has graduated the lion's share (over 90%) of his athletes, including one Valedictorian at Pepperdine and he wants to see his players succeed at whatever career path they choose.

He is proud to have former players who have chosen to pursue successful careers as doctors, lawyers, authors, coaches, stock brokers, bankers, professional golfers and even an intelligence agent.

Schuette attended Santa Barbara City College, where he rapidly progressed, earning All-Western State Conference honors. He earned a scholarship to Pepperdine, serving as captain in 1984 and 1985. Schuette was an All-West Coast Conference selection in 1985 and graduated in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in communications and marketing.

On July 27, 1996, Schuette and his wife Glenna were married in Santa Barbara. Their son, Kyle Evert Schuette, was born on Jan. 5, 2000. The Schuettes currently reside in Mar Vista.

MARTIN TRAINER

SOPHOMORE • 6-1 • PALO ALTO, CALIF.

TRAINER SO FAR IN 2010-2011: Sophomore Martin Trainer USC's hottest golfer in 2011, won the 2011 Pac-10 Championships, his fifth top 10 finish of the season and his third straight in the top 5. He had to go seven playoff holes to win his first collegiate title at the 2011 Pac-10s, sinking a five-foot putt to force extra holes not only for himself but for USC as well. Then, on the seventh consecutive trip down the 18th hole, his seventh straight par was finally good enough to win his playoff against Oregon State's Alex Moore. He finished regulation play at 5-under 275 (68-68-69-70) ... In addition to winning the individual title and helping USC take the team title, he also earned an amateur's exemption into the PGA Tour's Reno-Tahoe Open in August ... He warmed up for the Pac-10s by tying for fourth at the ASU Thunderbird, where he carded a 4-under 209 (74-66-69), and tying for fifth at the Western Intercollegiate at even 210 (70-69-71). His 66 at the Thunderbird was a season best. He also had two top 10 results in the fall, a tie for seventh at the Gifford Intercollegiate at 2-over 215 (73-70-72) and a tie for eighth at the Bill Cullum Invitational at even 216 (71-71-74). He also tied for 21st at the Del Walker Invitational at 8-over 218 (69-75-75) and tied for 26th at the Jack Nicklaus Invitational at 14-over 224 (74-78-72). At the Callaway Collegiate Match Play, he finished 3-1.

Decades of Dominance

- USC men's golf has won 19 Pac-10 Championships in the 51-year history of competition, far more than any other school.
- In addition, the Trojans won an unprecedented four straight titles and 10 in 16 years (1960-75).
- USC has also recorded nine runner-up finishes in Pac-10 Championship play, giving USC first or second place finishes in 27 of the 50 years.

The Haskins Award

The Haskins Award, college golf's equivalent of the Heisman Trophy, has been presented each year since 1971 to the top collegiate golfer in the nation.

Three Trojans have been Haskins Award recipients:

- Scott Simpson won it after capturing the second of back-to-back NCAA championship crowns in 1977. Simpson went on to compete on the U.S. Walker Cup team in 1977, beginning an outstanding pro career which includes seven tour victories and over $6 million in earnings.
- Sam Randolph was named the winner after his NCAA runner-up finish and 1985 U.S. Men's Amateur title. Randolph also competed on the '85 U.S. Walker Cup team.
- Jamie Lovemark won it in 2007 after winning the 2007 NCAA championship title as a freshman.

The award, voted on by media and collegiate coaches and players, is housed in the World Golf Hall of Fame in Pinehurst, N.C., and a replica is given to the winner.

KEVIN STADLER — The 2002 Pac-10 Player of the Year and second team All-American continues to shine in his post-collegiate career. Stadler has more than $4 million in career earnings, thanks in part to a season-best $931,720 in 2010, when he posted five top 10 finishes on the PGA Tour and seven in the top 25. That followed a 2009 that saw him earn $925,514 with six top 25s, including a second at the Wyndham Championship. He posted five Top 25 finishes in 2008, including a tie for fourth at the inaugural Puerto Rico Open. Stadler had three top 30 finishes through the first three months of the 2007 PGA Tour and later finished second at the Reno-Tahoe Open and seventh at the Wyndham Championship in consecutive events, finishing the season with $810,876 in earnings. Stadler won the Johnnie Walker Classic in Australia in February of 2006, earning $365,340 for the win and giving him an exemption for the European Tour. That win complemented his victory at the Argentine Open in December of 2005. In August of 2006, he won the Nationwide Tour's Xerox Classic. Stadler made the cut at the AT&T Pro Am at Pebble Beach and at the San Diego Open earlier in 2005. He also won the 2002 Colorado State Open and the 2003 Nevada State Open. He made the cut in 11 of 13 tournament appearances on the 2004 Nationwide Tour, including six top-25 finishes. He ranked 13th on the official money list, with $228,001 at the end of the year. He won his first tournament at the Lake Erie Charity Classic at Peek 'n Peek Resort the same day his dad, Craig, won the Champions Tour's Bank of America Championship. He was also the first sponsor exemption to win on the tour since 2001. He followed up that win with another victory at the Scholarship America Showdown two weeks later. It was his second win in four starts, making him the fastest player to capture two wins in Nationwide Tour history. He had two other top 10 finishes on the season as well. His best PGA Tour finish in 2004 was a 10th at Tucson. He tied for ninth at the 2005 Chrysler Classic of Tucson. Stadler earned his first PGA Tour Card for 2005 by virtue of his 14th-place finish on the 2004 Nationwide Tour money list.

2011 PGA Tour Member
Kevin Stadler

JAMIE LOVEMARK — A 2007 and 2008 All-American first teamer and the 2007 NCAA individual title winner, Jamie Lovemark is in his first year competing on the PGA Tour in 2011 after two years on the Nationwide Tour (when he also made PGA appearances). After completing his 2009 junior season, Lovemark turned pro and earned more than $450,000 in 2009 thanks chiefly to a second-place finish at the Frys.com Open. He competed in four PGA events in 2010. As a 2007 freshman, Lovemark turned in perhaps the most successful season in USC men's golf history, capped by winning Troy's fourth NCAA individual title (and becoming just the third Trojan to do it). The top-ranked golfer for much of the season, Lovemark earned the Arnold Palmer (national championship individual medalist), Jack Nicklaus (national player of the year) and Phil Mickelson (nation's outstanding freshman) Awards and was tabbed a Ping All-American first teamer. A semifinalist for the 2007 Ben Hogan Award, Lovemark, won four tournaments, including USC's first Pac-10 title since 1983. Lovemark finished second or third four other times ... As a 2008 sophomore, Lovemark became only USC's eighth two-time All-American first teamer and earned All-Pac-10 first teams again as well. He posted a team-high-tying seven top 10 finishes (all in the top 8). Lovemark was one of 11 finalists for the 2007 Sullivan Award.

Introducing USC's 'Fearsome Foursome'

AL "MR. 59" GEIBERGER (B.S., '59)

After winning 11 titles (including the 1966 PGA championship) and more than $1.2 million on the PGA tour, Geiberger joined the Senior Tour in 1987. Since then, he has continued his success, winning 10 Senior PGA Tour events, earning a career-high $608,877 in 1993. That year, he won the Infiniti Tournament of Champions and the GTE West Classic, with 10 Top 10 finishes. During his career, he has won 21 tournaments and finished first on the Champions Tour 10 times. However, it was at the 1977 Danny Thomas-Memphis Classic that he etched his name into the record books forever with an amazing 13-under-par 59 at the Colonial Country Club. A two-time All-American at USC (1958-1959), Geiberger was named an NCAA Silver Anniversary Award winner in 1984. Al, who participates in the annual "Trojan Golf Fantasy" fundraiser, has won over $6 million in career earnings on both the regular and senior tours. In 2001, he had three top 25 finishes, including a season-best tie for 19th at the Bruno's Memorial Classic, and earnings totalling $122,624. In 2002, he played in five events, with his best finish being a tie for 17th at the Royal Caribbean Classic. He returned to the Champions Tour in 2004, finishing 74th at the Administaff Small Business Classic and 75th at the SBC Championship. His son, Brent, won the Chrysler Classic of Greensboro 28 years after his triumph at the same tourney. They became the first father/son duo to win the same PGA tour event. He was inducted into the USC Hall of Fame in 1994.

SCOTT SIMPSON (Business Admin., '78)

A two-time first team All-American and back-to-back NCAA individual titleist (1976-77), Simpson had his biggest year on the PGA Tour in 1993, earning $707,166 while winning the GTE Byron Nelson Classic. In 1987, he finished No. 4 on the money list, earning more than $620,000, and joined an elite group when he captured the U.S. Open at San Francisco's Olympic Club. Since turning pro in 1977, Scott has won over $6.4 million, notching seven PGA Tour victories during his pro career, including the 1998 Buick Invitational. Simpson also served on the 1987 Ryder Cup team. He suffered a broken ankle in 2000 and was unable to play on the tour, but he returned in 2001 to earn $512,530 with his best finish being a tie for second at the Greater Greensboro Chrysler Classic. In 2003, he played in his first-ever Nationwide Tour event and finished tied for 54th at the Chitimacha Louisiana Open. His best effort for the season was a tie for 22nd at the MCI Classic. In 2004, he had one top 10 finish, a tie for 10th at the Valero Texas Open. He was inducted into the USC Hall of Fame in May of 1997. In his first full year on the Champions Tour in 2006, he won the Wal-Mart First Tee Open at Pebble Beach, had eight top 10 finishes and finished sixth on the money list. In 2007 on the Champions Tour, Simpson had five top 10 finishes and 14 in the top 25, earning more than $800,000. He had nine top 10 finishes in 2008 and was 14th on the money list ($1,272,626) and had seven top 10s in 2009.

CRAIG STADLER ('75)

A tour member since 1975, Stadler had perhaps his finest PGA season ever in 1991, placing second on the Tour's money list with $827,628. "The Walrus," as he is affectionately called, has won 13 PGA Tour events, most recently the 2003 B.C. Open. Stadler also received the PGA Arnold Palmer Award as the tour's leading money winner in 1982. His fifth tour victory, the 1982 Masters, served notice that he was among the tour's top players. Since winning the 1973 U.S. Amateur Championship and earning All-American honors four consecutive years at USC (1972-75), Stadler has gone on to earn over $11 million on the PGA tour and crack the Top 15 on the all-time career money list. He played on the 1983 and 1985 Ryder Cup teams and won the Kemper Open twice (1981-82). In 2001, he had earnings of $196,000, with his best finish being a tie for fifth at the WGS-Accenture Match Play Championship. In 2002, he played with his son, Kevin (another former USC golfer), for the first time in an official TOUR event at the B.C. Open. He later tied for 10th at the Worldcom Classic and earned over $500,000 for the year. In 2003, he was named the Champions Tour "Rookie of the Year" as he was 14th on the money list in just 14 starts, with two wins and seven top-10 finishes. He was on fire for most of 2004, winning the Champions Tour's Player of the Year after a career-best five victories in a single season, the most wins by any player in a year since Larry Nelson in 2001. He also received the Arnold Palmer Award as the circuit's leading money winner, with a personal-best $2,306,606--the 10th-highest money total ever. He joined Lee Trevino and Tom Watson as the third player to earn money titles on both the Champions and PGA Tours. In 2006, he had two runner-up finishes and five in the top 10 while in 2007, he carded four top 10 finishes with earnings of more than $500,000. Six top 10 finishes in 2008 helped him earn $752,732 and he had 10 top 10s in 2009. He was inducted into the USC Hall of Fame in 1999.

DAVE STOCKTON (General Management, '63)

Dave Stockton, who has earned a reputation as one of the golf world's best putters, is another in the distinguished line of Trojan standouts. Stockton has won 25 titles on the PGA and Senior PGA Tours, including the 1996 U.S. Senior Open, winning career earnings of more than $9.5 million, which ranks him at No. 6 on the all-time money list. Stockton joined the tour in 1964 and won the 1970 and 1976 PGA Championships. Before joining the Senior Tour in 1991, Stockton logged 11 PGA Tour victories, earning over $1.2 million. Upon joining the Senior Tour in 1991, he earned Rookie of the Year honors. In 1993, he dominated the Senior Tour, winning five tournaments and earning more than $1.1 million in earnings. Dave followed that up with three victories in 1994 and won his second straight Arnold Palmer Award as the circuit's leading money winner. In 1997, he won the Franklin Quest Championship. In 2002, he had his highest finish on the money list since 1998 with $304,000 in earnings. In 2003, he appeared in 20 events, placing top 10 in five of them with earnings of $142,833. In 2004, he had three top-10 finishes and finished among the top 50 money winners for an unprecedented 12th consecutive season, earning $145,250. He continues to play on the Champions Tour and has five top 10 finishes in the past five years. After serving as a Ryder Cup member in 1971 and 1977, Dave had the prestigious honor of being the 1991 PGA Ryder Cup Captain. He was inducted into the USC Hall of Fame in 1995. He served as chairman of the Senior Tour Player Advisory Council up until 2001. He is a second-generation Trojan.

JEFF HART (Physical Education, '83)— A two-time All-American at USC, Hart finished 20th at the 1996 Buick Challenge. He previously competed on the Nike Tour, where he logged third place finishes in three 1992 tournaments. Jeff has career earnings of more than $500,000. In 1998 he captured numerous mini tour titles on the Golden State and Tear Drop tours. He also won the 2000 Buy.com Steamtown Classic and logged earnings of $178,489 --15th on the money list for the year. In 2002, he finished No. 47 on the 2002 Nationwide Tour final money list with $97,595. He made the cut in 7 of 19 tournaments in 2003, his best finish being a tie for 21st at the Price Cutter Charity Championship. He had two top 10 finishes on the Nationwide Tour in 2004 and rejoined the PGA Tour in 2005.

BRIAN HENNINGER (Psychology, '87) — Henninger, who was a standout performer at USC after walking on to the team, is one of the bright young performers on the PGA Tour. After winning three times in 1992 and finishing second in earnings on the Nike Tour (to fellow Trojan John Flannery), he joined the PGA Tour in 1993. His first PGA Tour victory was at the 1994 Deposit Guaranty Golf Classic. Brian has career earnings of more than $1.7 million, and he contended for the 1995 Masters. His most recent win was at the 1999 Southern Farm Bureau Classic. He also has three wins on the Buy.com tour. His 2002 PGA Tour money total was $281,614, with his best finish being a tie for 3rd at the B.C. Open. In 2003, his best finish was a tie for 18th at the B.C. Open, while his best 2006 finish was a tie for 24th at the Chrysler Classic of Tucson.

JOHN JACOBS — Jacobs joined the PGA Tour in 1968 and the Senior Tour in 1995. He has three Senior victories under his belt, including the 1998 Nationwide Championship, the 1999 MasterCard Championship and the 2000 Bruno's Memorial Classic. His best PGA Tour finish was a second place finish at the 1971 United Airlines Ontario Open. He has four top 10 finishes and has earned more than $740,000 in winnings in 2001 on the Senior Tour. In 2002, he had a career-best year from an earnings standpoint with $1,224,737. He moved up 11 spots on the money list and increased his earnings by nearly $500,000 over his 2001 total. In 2003, he finished in the top 30 on the money list for the eighth-straight season and had four top 10 finishes. The biggest of those was the Senior PGA Championship, when he became the oldest winner of the event (58) since Pete Cooper (61) in 1976. He had five top 10 finishes on the Champions Tour in 2004.

MARK PFEIL — Pfeil has logged 24 seasons on the PGA Tour and was exempt on the Champions Tour in 2003. He serves as a volunteer assistant to the USC program. He won the Tallahassee Open on the PGA Tour in 1980. He has career earnings of more than $570,000. Pfeil was a two-time All-American, a Pac-10 Champion and a member of the Walker Cup team while at USC. He recently qualified for the Champions Tour in his first attempt. Played in 15 events in 2002 and finished 78th on the final money list with $174,090. In 2003, he played in 17 events and made the cut in all of them, his best finish being a tie for 11th at the Farmer's Charity Classic.

SAM RANDOLPH — After winning 12 collegiate titles at USC and becoming the second three-time first-team All-American in Trojan history, Randolph has had a productive pro career, with career earnings of more than $600,000. His first PGA Tour victory was at the 1987 Bank of Boston Classic. Sam was the 1985 U.S. Amateur champion and won the Fred Haskins Award (as the top collegiate golfer) that same year. His best finishes in 2001 include a tie for 46th at the B.C. Open and a tie for 17th at the Buy.Com Permian Basin Open. In 2000, he had three top 10 finishes on the Buy.Com tour. He has been on the Nationwide Tour since 2002.

DAVE STOCKTON, JR. — Dave Stockton, Jr., following in the footsteps of his father, shows promise of becoming a major figure in the golf world. Stockton, Jr., won the Connecticut Open and the Hawkeye Open on the 1993 Nike Tour. He was the co-medalist at the 1993 PGA Tour Qualifying Tournament. His best PGA Tour finish was at the 1995 Canon Greater Hartford Open, where he earned a tie for second. Dave's best finish in 1998 was a sixth-place showing at the Shell Houston Open. In 1999, he tied for sixth at the Canon Greater Hartford Open. In 2002, he earned $110,000 on the Nationwide Tour. In 2003, he earned more than $90,000 as he had three top 25 finishes. Dave has career earnings of more than $1.4 million and a career low round of 63. He was a volunteer assistant on USC's staff in 2006.

ROGER TAMBELLINI (Education, '98)—A third team All-American at USC, Tambellini returned to the PGA Tour in 2010. He finished in the money in seven 2006 PGA tournaments, highlighted by a tie for 21st at the Shell Houston Open. In 2008, he earned $194,227 on the Nationwide Tour, more than doubling his total from 2007. He earned paychecks in 12 2004 PGA Tour events, including a tie for 14th at the BellSouth Classic. He earned his first PGA Tour card via T21 finish at 2003 PGA Tour Qualifying Tournament. He made the cut in 14 of 17 events on the 2003 Nationwide Tour and had eight Top 25 finishes. He finished the season No. 22 on the money list ($177,963), winning his first Tour title at the Albertsons Boise Open. He collected $108,000 for the win and was named the Nationwide Tour Player of the Month in September. He finished second in All-Around Ranking, fourth in Total Driving and fifth in Scrambling. He made the cut seven times on the 2002 Nationwide Tour.

Trojan Practice Courses

ANNANDALE GOLF CLUB

est: 1906
yards: 6,500
par: 70, rating: 71.9
course architect: Bill Bell, Sr.

Annandale has served as a qualifying site for the L.A. Open, and its narrow fairways and quick greens present a strong challenge. The facility boasts an outstanding short game practice area and golf legends Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen were frequent visitors. Host pro: Wade Burzus, PGA.

BEL-AIR COUNTRY CLUB

yards: 6,800
par: 70, rating: 73.8
course designer: George C. Thomas, Jr.

A very challenging layout that plays more difficult than the yardage alone indicates. One of the more prestigious clubs in all of Southern California. Bel-Air has been ranked among the top 100 golf courses in America by Golf Digest and has a very traditional and historic feel. Host pros: Dave Podus, PGA & Ed Merrins, PGA, Pro Emeritus.

HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB

est: 1920
yards: 6,700
par: 71, rating: 71.9
course architect: Willie Watson

One of the oldest clubs in the metropolitan Los Angeles area, Hillcrest hosted the 1932 and 1942 men's Los Angeles Opens, won by MacDonald Smith and Ben Hogan. Leo Diegel won the PGA Championship at Hillcrest in 1929. It has outstanding short game facilities and the course requires a wide variety of shots on hilly terrain. Host pro: Paul Wise, PGA.

LAKESIDE GOLF CLUB

est: 1924
yards: 6,600
par: 70, rating: 71.9
course architect: Max Behr

Located in Toluca Lake, the course has long been one of the top clubs in Southern California. Lakeside has been an L.A. Open qualifying course, and lists celebrities Kevin Costner, Joe Pesci, Sylvester Stallone, the late Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and W.C. Fields among its members. Rick Stegall, PGA.

LOS ANGELES COUNTRY CLUB

est: 1897
yards: 6,950
par: 71, rating: 74.0
course architect: George C. Thomas, Jr.

Featuring 36 holes, The Los Angeles Country Club, one of the most prestigious locations in the country, has been voted as one of the top 25 golf courses in the nation by Golf Digest. The club, which has one of the most demanding layouts in the golf world, has also hosted the Pac-10 Championships. Host pro: Jim Schaeffer, PGA.

LOST CANYONS GOLF CLUB

yards: 7,285
par: 72, rating: 75.6
course architect: Pete Dye

Lost Canyons Golf Club has 36 holes of challenging golf. Its length and its undulating fairways require a player to hit every club in his bag. Additionally, Lost Canyons also has a fantastic short game practice area. Host pro: Jay Colliatie, PGA G.M., Director of Golf.

NORTH RANCH COUNTRY CLUB

est: 1975
yards: 6,900
par: 71, rating: 73.3
course architect: Ted Robinson

North Ranch Country Club, which hosts the Ashworth Collegiate Invitational, USC's home tournament, has outstanding practice facilities, 27 holes and is considered by many to be one of the best-maintained golf courses in Southern California. Trojan alumnus Dave Stockton served as a consultant during construction. Director of Golf: Mark Wilson, PGA; Head Golf professional Scott Miller, PGA.

RIVIERA COUNTRY CLUB

yards: 7,300
par: 71, rating: 75.6
course architect: George C. Thomas

Located in Pacific Palisades, Riviera is among Golf Digest's "Top 20" courses in the United States. Riviera has hosted numerous L.A. Opens and was the site of the 1983 and 1995 PGA Championships. The 1998 U.S. Senior Open was hosted here and won by Hale Irwin. Ben Hogan won the 1948 U.S. Open here. Golf Digest also ranks Riviera among the 50 best courses in the world. Host pro: Todd Yoshitake, PGA.

TRUMP NATIONAL GOLF CLUB

yards: 7,311
par: 71, rating: 75.0
course architect: Donald J. Trump Signature Design

Located on the luxurious Palos Verdes Peninsula just thirty minutes from downtown Los Angeles, Trump National provides a challenging layout that demands accuracy and length. Besides its incredible ocean views throughout the whole golf course, Trump National has outstanding practice facilities. Everything from its practice putting green, short game area and driving range provide a stimulating environment. David Conforti, PGA, Director of Golf, G.M., John Corey, PGA, Head Golf Professional.

WILSHIRE COUNTRY CLUB

yards: 6,600
par: 71, rating: 71.5
course architect: Norman MacBeth

A beautiful course located in Los Angeles' mid-Wilshire district, Wilshire Country Club has played host to the L.A. Open and Senior PGA Tour events. The challenging course layout requires the golfer to have the ability to work the ball both ways off the tee and typically has slick greens. Host pro: Rick Rielly, PGA.

USC Collegiate Invitational

The USC men's golf team has hosted one of the premier tournaments in collegiate golf for 29 years. Formerly known as the Southwestern and Cleveland Golf Collegiate, it was changed to the USC Collegiate Invitational in 2007. Always an extremely competitive event featuring strong fields, past participants include Arizona, Arizona State, Arkansas, Cal, Houston, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Stanford, Texas, TCU, Tennessee, UCLA, USC, UTEP and Pepperdine.

The Invitational is a two-day event (54 holes) at the spectacular North Ranch Country Club. North Ranch is a challenging par-71 layout with a course rating of 73.3. We pride the course playing firm and fast with green speeds of 11.0-plus on the stimp meter. It played host to the 1988 NCAA Championships- a testament to its difficulty. Preceding the tournament each year is a College Am, which provides amateur golfers with an opportunity to play with some of the nation's top collegiate players.

Players like Fred Couples, Corey Pavin, Tiger Woods, and Trojan golf greats Dave Stockton, Jr., Brian Henninger, Jeff Hart, Sam Randolph, Jr. and Kevin Stadler have participated in the event.

A special thanks goes out to C.W. Johnson, the tournament director for more than 25 years. Host pro and director of golf Mark Wilson has also been extremely welcoming and supportive. Our signature college-amateur cook-out with In 'n' Out has become a trademark of the event.

At USC, we look forward to continuing to provide this wonderful opportunity for college players to compete and develop their golf games.

The Burrell C. Johnson Family Short Game Practice Facility

The Burrell C. Johnson Family Short Game Practice Facility was made possible by a generous gift from Burrell C. Johnson and family, as well as donations from numerous other friends of Trojan Golf. It was dedicated on Nov. 25 of 2000. The beautiful facility, designed by Ted Robinson Jr., is located behind Dedeaux Baseball Field on the campus of USC, is night-lighted and provides the Trojan Golf teams with a convenient opportunity to practice chipping, pitching, putting and bunker play year-round. The green is maintained daily to championship standards. It is also a great spot for team gatherings, especially prior to football games.

This facility was also made possible by the generous contributions of the following companies and individuals:

The Vision of USC

Did You Know?

· The USC School of Cinematic Arts (above) was proud to both celebrate its 80th anniversary during the 2009-10 academic year, and open the doors on the first two buildings in its new Cinematic Arts complex, which pays homage to the cinematic history of Southern California and USC. The new Cinematic Arts complex was built, thanks to a $175 million donation by USC alumnus George Lucas. The now-completed complex includes an animation building, soundstages and a production center.

· In February 2010, the Princeton Review ranked USC's Interactive Media division as the No. 1 video-game design program in North America. Game design formally got its start at USC in 2002, when the USC School of Cinematic Arts launched its MFA in interactive media, although a core game-design workshop had been in place since 1999. In 2004, the school unveiled the Game Innovation Lab, a state-of-the-art research space and think tank for game design and creation. A B.A. in interactive entertainment was first offered in 2005. Today, USC offers four degrees in video-game development at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For the game-play design-focused, the USC School of Cinematic Arts offers the Master of Fine Arts in interactive media and the Bachelor of Arts in interactive entertainment. For the more engineering-oriented, the USC Viterbi School offers the Bachelor of Science in computer science (games) and the Master of Science in computer science (game development).

The University of Southern California is a private research institution of international distinction. It is distinguished by renowned faculty, highly competitive admission standards, an appreciation of the arts and an innovative community service outreach program that was recognized by Time Princeton Review when USC was named College of the Year in 2000 and Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide's "Hot School of 2001."

Founded in 1880, it enrolls about 35,000 students annually on two campuses, the 235-acre University Park Campus in Exposition Park and the 50-acre Health Sciences Campus, three miles to the northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

USC is a unique and distinguished university with a proud tradition of achievement and unheralded success in all areas of study:

USC is a member of the Association of American Universities, a select group of 62 elite public and private universities in the United States and Canada that, together, do about two-thirds of all federally funded research and development.

USC has 63 faculty members who are members of national academies. Membership in these prestigious academies, created by Congress, is by election only and is based on a faculty member's distinguished and continuous achievements.

The University is the home of 17 professional schools, in addition to the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. These schools train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, theatre, education and business.

USC undergraduates can design degrees from 77 major and 101 minors available in the College of Letters, Arts & Sciences, the Graduate School and Professional Schools.

- More than 229,000 living alumni in the Trojan Family
- 40 housing facilities available both on and off campus
  - More than 300 clubs and student organizations
- Many of USC's undergraduate/graduate programs rank in the top 10 nationally
  - 46 fraternities and sororities
  - One of the nation's best academic reputations.

Did You Know?

· USC was named No. 23 in the nation for the “best national universities” category by U.S. News & World Report in 2010. At 23rd, USC was tied with Carnegie Mellon University. U.S. News listed USC among only five institutions in the American West in the top 25; it also included Stanford (No. 5), the California Institute of Technology (No. 7), the University of California, Berkeley (No. 22) and UCLA (No. 25). From 1991 to date, USC has risen 28 places in the U.S. News rankings. Moreover, the university also was rated as having the third most economically diverse student body among top schools. Two USC schools were singled out in the rankings for quality: The USC Marshall School of Business was ranked No. 10 nationally and was listed as No. 4 in entrepreneurship and No. 5 in real estate. The USC Viterbi School of Engineering was rated 26th overall.

· USC's 2009 entering class is the most academically talented in the university's 129-year history. Despite a difficult economic environment, demand remained high, with 35,753 applications for 2,869 places in the class. Students' average standardized test scores are in the 94th percentile as compared to all students in the United States, and their average grade point average is 3.7. USC offers admission without regard to ability to pay, and the university meets 100 percent of the demonstrated need of on-time financial aid applicants. USC has the largest university-funded financial aid budget of any university in the country, providing more than $180 million each year of

- USC is one of only two Los Angeles universities to own its own hospital after the university spent $275 million in 2009 to acquire the USC University Hospital and USC Norris Cancer Center. With other hospitals comprising the university's Health Science campus (located east of downtown Los Angeles), the acquisition ensures USC's position among the nation's top-ranked integrated academic medical centers.

- USC is the largest private-sector employer in Los Angeles and one of the largest economic engines for the state of California. USC's academic spending alone generates $4.9 billion annually in economic activity in the Los Angeles region and beyond.

- With the opening of a new international office in Shanghai, USC has increased its number of Asia offices to four: Shanghai, Hong Kong, Taipei and Tokyo. USC is the nation's leader in international education, with over 7,000 international students, more than any other U.S. university. Academically, USC's ties to Shanghai include partnerships with Shanghai Jiao Tong University and the College of Civil Engineering at Shanghai-based Tongji University.

The Trojan Family

The extended family of USC is a global network made up of thousands of alumni, students, faculty, and staff, as well as parents of students, SCions (children and grandchildren of alumni), the Board of Trustees, the boards of councilors, donors, athletic fans, and neighborhood partners. But the uniqueness of the Trojan Family isn't due to its vast numbers. Rather, it's the extraordinary closeness and solidarity that is found in this genuinely supportive community. To its members, the term "Trojan Family" is more than a phrase: it represents a promise, a commitment to support that is lifelong and worldwide.

USC ALMA MATER "All Hail"

"All Hail to Alma Mater
To thy glory we sing;
All Hail to Southern California
Loud let thy praises ring;
Where Western sky meets
Western sea
Our college stands in majesty;
Sing our love to Alma Mater,
Hail, all hail to thee!"

Students

USC's diverse student body is a strength and source of pride. From its earliest days, USC aspired to diversity by instituting policies that assured no student would be denied admission because of race, color, religion, or gender. The university has attracted more international students over the years than any other American university. Currently, 11 percent of USC's students represent over 110 countries.

Equally important is the academic excellence that today's USC students bring. USC accepted 80 percent of applicants from the top 10 percent of their high schools. The 2009 entering class' SAT score average between 1930-2150 and GPA average is 3.7. But USC students are more than academic high-achievers. There have been more Trojans in the Olympics than any American university, and over 60 percent of the university's students volunteer in community-service programs in neighborhoods around campus and throughout LA. Outstanding, well-rounded students are a hallmark of USC.

Did You Know?

- USC distributes $343 million in financial aid; over 60 percent of our students receive assistance.
- For the academic year, a total of 11 percent of the student body are first-generation college students.

And consider this:

- The student-to-faculty ratio is 10-to-1.
- The average class size is 26 students.
- Full-time faculty teach the vast majority of our courses.
- Students can get all the classes they need in order to graduate in four years.
- USC grads get great jobs, attend the best graduate and professional schools in the country (including our own) and are supported by the Trojan Family - a network of nearly a quarter million alumni.

Faculty

USC's faculty members aren't just teachers of others' works, but active contributors to what is taught, thought, and practiced throughout the world. The university's faculty includes Nobel Prize laureate George A. Olah and 63 members of the National Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Engineering, and, Institute of Medicine. More than 200 faculty members have received prestigious academic and professional awards from organizations as varied as National Institutes of Health, the National Science Foundation, the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, and the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences.

Alumni

USC's first alumni association was founded in 1885, just a year after the university graduated its first class. Those initial eight men and women paved the way for today's more than 229,000-member USC Alumni Association. Trojan alumni span all 50 states and virtually every region of the world. As leaders in their communities and professions, they bring recognition to their alma mater. Distinguished alumni include former U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher, astronaut Neil Armstrong, architect Frank Gehry, opera singer Marilyn Horne, symphony conductor Michael Tilson Thomas, film director George Lucas, and baseball pitcher Mark Prior. The talents and commitment of its alumni are among USC's greatest strengths.

Traveler

Traveler, the noble white horse that appears at all USC home football games with a regal Trojan warrior astride, is one of the most famous college mascots.

Traveler first made an appearance at USC football games in 1961. Bob Jani, then USC's director of special events, and Eddie Tannenbaum, then a junior at USC, had spotted Richard Saukko riding his white horse, Traveler I, in the 1961 Rose Parade. They persuaded Saukko to ride his white horse during USC games, serving as a mascot. Ever since, whenever USC scores, the band plays "Conquest" and Traveler gallops around the Coliseum.

The current Trojan mascot is Traveler VII. Even though the breed of horse may have changed over the years — Travelers I through VI ranged from an Arabian/Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Arabian to an Andalusian — Traveler's color has always remained pure white.

In the fall of 2004, USC alumnus Bill Tilley ('61) and his wife, Nadine, donated $2 million to provide a permanent endowment to support Traveler.

Besides the horses, USC once even had a canine mascot. A mutt named George Tirebiter I (famous for chasing cars through the USC campus) first appeared at football games in 1940. He survived a publicized dognapping by UCLA in 1947, but succumbed under the tires of an automobile in 1950. He was succeeded by George II for three years (1950-52), then George III for one year (1953) and finally George IV for one year (1957).

Tommy Trojan

In the center of the USC campus stands one of the most famous collegiate landmarks in the country: Tommy Trojan. Since being unveiled in 1930 for USC's 50th jubilee, the statue of the bronzed Trojan warrior has served not only as a popular meeting place on campus, but as a symbol of the university's fighting spirit.

Sculpted by Roger Noble Burnham, Tommy Trojan cost $10,000 to build. A $1 surcharge then on season football tickets helped pay for it. The statue is a composite of many USC football players from the late 20s, most notably 1930 Rose Bowl Player of the Game Russ Saunders and

All-American Erny Pinckert.

Inscribed on the statue's base is "THE TROJAN" and the university's seal, with the Latin motto "Palmas qui meruit ferat (Let him who deserves it bear away the palm)." Below the seal are inscribed the qualities of the ideal Trojan: "Faithful, Scholarly, Skillful, Courageous and Ambitious."

Cardinal and Gold

Before 1895, the official color of USC was gold. The official color of the College of Liberal Arts was cardinal. The college had its own official color because it was the largest academic unit in the University. In 1895, both colors were adopted as USC's official colors.

"Trojans"

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time, USC's teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them."

The Spirit Of Troy

The Trojan Marching Band - known as "The Spirit of Troy" - is perhaps the most dynamic and innovative collegiate band in the nation. Named among the eight best marching bands in the country by USA Today, the band is one of the most visible tools of the University.

Established in 1880, the band has played for seven Presidents, appeared in numerous movies, commercials and television shows, and has even produced several records of its own music.

The band marches upwards of 80 miles a year while traveling across the land supporting almost every USC athletic team. A typical football halftime show by the band takes more than 4,000 work hours to prepare.

Now 300-plus members strong, the Trojan Marching Band has tripled in size since Dr. Arthur C. Bartner became its director in 1969.

The Pac-10 Conference

The Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions", claiming an incredible 171 NCAA team titles over the past 20 years, including eight in 2009-10, averaging nearly nine championships per academic year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-10's success, with championships coming in 26 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has led the nation in NCAA Championships in 44 of the last 50 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-10 has captured 390 NCAA titles (267 men's, 123 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 226 titles.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. STANFORD won its unprecedented 16th-consecutive Directors' Cup in 2009-10, continuing its remarkable run. Seven of the top 25 Division I programs were Pac-10 member institutions: No. 1 STANFORD, No. 4 UCLA, No. 9 CALIFORNIA, No. 13 USC, No. 14 OREGON, No. 22 ARIZONA STATE and No. 24 WASHINGTON. The Pac-10's three teams in the top 10 was second-most for any conference, behind only the ACC (4), while the Big 12, Big Ten and SEC had one team each.

It was also a historic year for the Pac-10 off the field. After 26 years as Pac-10 Commissioner, Tom Hansen retired from his position and on July 1, 2009, was succeeded by Larry Scott, the former Chairman and CEO of the WTA Tour, a 2008 TIME Magazine Best Sports Executive and a former All-American tennis player at Harvard University. Eleven months later, the Conference announced the expansion of the Pac-10 to include Colorado (2012) and Utah (2011), the first time since 1978 the league has invited new members.

The Pac-10 captured eight NCAA titles in 2009-10, tying with the ACC for the most in the country. Of the eight titles, Pac-10 teams claimed a nation's-best five women's NCAA crowns. California also captured the IRA National Championship in men's rowing, the Pac-10's ninth national title of the season.

OREGON, STANFORD, UCLA and USC each claimed NCAA team titles in the last academic year. The Trojans were the only team in the nation to win three crowns, while the Cardinal and Bruins joined USC as three of only nine institutions to claim multiple crowns.

The Trojans swept the men's and women's water polo titles, also adding the men's tennis crown to its trophy case. The Cardinal claimed the top spot in men's volleyball and women's tennis, while the Bruins took home titles in women's gymnastics and softball. The Pac-10 also had runners-up in 14 NCAA Championship events: men's cross country (OREGON), women's soccer (STANFORD), men's water polo (UCLA), women's basketball (STANFORD), men's gymnastics (STANFORD), men's swimming (CALIFORNIA), women's swimming (STANFORD), men's indoor track and field (OREGON), baseball (UCLA), softball (ARIZONA), women's golf (USC), women's rowing (CALIFORNIA), women's outdoor track and field (OREGON) and women's water polo (STANFORD). Overall, the Conference had 33 teams finish in the top four at 20 NCAA Championship events.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-10 in 2009-10. Of the 22 sports sponsored by the Conference, 19 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 64 of a possible 90 teams into the postseason (71.1 percent), while the women sent 73 of a possible 99 teams (73.7 percent).

The Pac-10 experienced continued success in football as the league sent seven teams to bowl games, tying a Pac-10 record for most bowl participants. The Pac-10 faced tough competition in the Bowl season, as four of the seven opponents were ranked in the top 20. Oregon claimed its eighth Pac-10 title in the sport and first since 2001, posting an 8-1 league record. Meanwhile, ARIZONA (Pacific Life Holiday), CALIFORNIA (San Diego County Credit Union Poinsettia), OREGON STATE (Maaco Las Vegas), STANFORD (Brut Sun), UCLA (EagleBank) and USC (Emerald) also earned bowl bids. OREGON and USC were ranked in the top-25 of the Associated Press poll at season's end, finishing 11th and 22nd, respectively.

Pac-10 regular-season champion WASHINGTON and tournament champion CALIFORNIA represented the Conference in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, and two others competed in other postseason events. The Pac-10 saw a balanced race crown the Golden Bears regular-season champions for the first time since 1960, while every team logged at least six league wins, a first in the history of the league. After winning the tournament title, the Huskies advanced to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, knocking off No. 6-seed Marquette and No. 3-seed New Mexico. On the women's side, two teams competed in the NCAA Tournament and four others competed in postseason play. STANFORD made its third-straight NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, advancing to the national championship game for the second time in three years. UCLA made its first postseason appearance since 2005-06. CALIFORNIA captured its first-ever WNIT crown, and ARIZONA STATE and OREGON also garnered WNIT bids, and WASHINGTON participated in the first-ever WBI.

Without question, the Conference has dominated the softball field, winning 22 national championships in the sport since 1982. UCLA hoisted the 2010 NCAA trophy, the program's 11th in the sport, an NCAA record. It was an all-Pac-10 final, as the Bruins defeated ARIZONA in the championship series to claim the crown. Seven Pac-10 teams earned NCAA Tournament bids, with three advancing to the NCAA Women's College World Series, including Pac-10 Champion WASHINGTON, which captured the league title with a 17-4 record.

It was a historic year for the Pac-10 in baseball as a Conference-record eight teams earned NCAA Tournament bids. ARIZONA STATE and UCLA reached the NCAA Men's College World Series with the Bruins advancing to the championship series. ARIZONA, CALIFORNIA, OREGON, OREGON STATE, STANFORD and WASHINGTON STATE also represented the Conference in the postseason event. The 80 percent postseason participation rate marked the best percentage by a conference in NCAA Division I history.

The Conference swept two men's and women's sports, capturing national championship in water polo and tennis. USC claimed the men's and women's in water polo. The Trojans also claimed the men's tennis title, while STANFORD came out on top in the women's bracket.

On the men's side, Pac-10 members have won 267 NCAA team championships, far ahead of the 200 claimed by the runner-up Big Ten. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-10 - 15 basketball titles by five schools (more than any other conference), 51 tennis titles, 44 outdoor track & field crowns, and 26 baseball titles. Pac-10 members have won 24 of the last 41 NCAA titles in volleyball, 36 of the last 51 in water polo, and 21 in swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA men's individual champions, as well, boasting 1,171 individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 29 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 21 occasions, including 2009-10. Overall, the Pac-10 has captured 123 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second, with 74. Pac-10 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 22 softball titles, 19 tennis crowns, 13 of the last 20 volleyball titles, 13 of the last 21 trophies in golf, and 11 in swimming & diving.

Pac-10 women student-athletes shine nationally on an individual basis, as well, having captured an unmatched 527 NCAA individual crowns, an average of nearly 19 championships per season.

PAC-10 CONFERENCE HISTORY

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference date back over 90 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference. Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Associates of Western Universities was formed and Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed Commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as Commissioner of the Pac-8.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports.

The University of Colorado accepted an invitation to join the Pac-10 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the Conference. The Buffaloes and Utes will become the 11th and 12th members of the Conference, the first additions to the league since 1978.

The Pacific-10 Conference offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

National Championships

USC has long dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. In fact, it could be argued that Troy was the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century." USC men and women have combined for 113 national team titles.

Trojan men's teams are tops in the nation in NCAA championships with 77 — more than any other university. Overall, USC's men have won 90 national championships.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship—an annual ranking by USA Today (previously The Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times (1971-72-74-75-77-80) since its inception in 1971.

USC's women are also a force, with 23 national team titles, all since 1976.

From 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak. In each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship (including five crowns in both 1962-63 and 1976-77).

The USC Athletic Experience

USC has a proud athletic heritage — and with good reason. Arguably, Troy could be regarded as one of the best collegiate athletic programs in the nation:

- Trojan teams have won more national championships, 90 men's (including a national-best 77 men's NCAA titles) and 23 women's, than all but two other universities
  - The Trojans won at least one national team title in 26 consecutive years (1959-60 to 1984-85)
- USC has won the National College All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by USA Today (previously the Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — six times since its inception in 1971
- USC has won the annual Gauntlet Trophy, a year-long all-sports competition between Troy and crosstown rival UCLA, six times (2002, 2004, 2006, 2008, 2009, 2010)
- Trojan men athletes have won more individual NCAA titles (302) than those from any other school in the nation (the Women of Troy have brought home another 56 individual NCAA crowns)
- Troy has also established a stellar reputation and a long tradition of nurturing Olympic athletes. Since 1904, 392 Trojan athletes have competed in the Games, taking home 122 gold medals (with at least one gold in every summer Olympics since 1912), 76 silver and 60 bronze (medal count before 2008 Olympics)
- Four Trojans have won the prestigious Sullivan Award as the top amateur athlete in America: diver Sammy Lee (1953), shot putter Parry O'Brien (1959), swimmer John Naber (1977) and Janet Evans (1989)
- Two Women of Troy athletes have won the Honda-Broderick Cup as the top collegiate woman athlete of the year: Cheryl Miller (1983-84) and Angela Williams (2001-02)
- USC has won six Heisman Trophy winners with the most recent winners being Carson Palmer (2002) and Matt Leinart (2004).
- Along with the great accomplishments on the playing fields, USC student-athletes have received 50 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, in the top 10 among all schools. In addition, USC has had 29 first team Academic All-Americans and four athletes who were Rhodes Scholars

Athletic Facilities

Heritage Hall, which sits in the middle of the USC campus, houses the University's athletic department and celebrates the glorious Trojan athletic heritage.

Originally 48,000 square feet and built at a cost of $2.8 million, the three-level brick and concrete colonnaded building opened in 1971 and since then it has been expanded three times.

Between the north and south wings on the building's ground level are some of USC's numerous athletic trophies, including various NCAA team championships, six Heisman Trophies and the jerseys of Troy's winners, and updated displays honoring recent successful Trojan athletes. Plaques commemorating the members of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame are located in the patio. The Honors Rail, which encircles the open-air foyer above the first floor lobby, has bronze medallions saluting every Trojan who won an Olympic gold medal, captured an NCAA individual championship, or was named a first team All-American in an NCAA sport in which there are no individual champions.

The underground lower level of Heritage Hall houses various locker rooms, plus the equipment room, medical training room, the Jess Hill Weight Room, and the McAlister Academic Resource Center.

The Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum is the home of the USC football program, a historic facility that first opened in 1923 and has been the host for two Olympics (1932 and 1984). The Coliseum is located just south of the USC campus.

USC's swimming and water polo coaches are located in the nearby Kennedy Aquatics Building, while the baseball staff has offices at Dedeaux Field which underwent a $4-million renovation in 2002 to add 700 additional seats, chairback seats, a player's lounge, remodeled coaches offices and hall of fame.

Outside the northwest corner of Heritage Hall, the $3-million Galen Center — a popular sports-themed dining and activity center — opened in early 1999.

USC's other on-campus athletic facilities include Howard Jones (football practice field), the McDonald's Swim Stadium, Marks Tennis Stadium, Cromwell Field and Katherine B. Loker Stadium (men's and women's track) and McAlister Field (women's soccer).

In October of 2006, the brand new, 10,258-seat, on-campus events center, Galen Center, opened and houses the men's and women's volleyball and men's and women's basketball programs. The Galen Center features a weight room and training room with locker rooms for all four teams. The Galen Center allows all four teams to be able to practice at the same time with three full volleyball courts available for the USC women's volleyball program.

Los Angeles

The University of Southern California is nestled in the city of Los Angeles, the second-largest city in the United States with nearly four million residents. In fact the combined population for Los Angeles County and Orange County (located east) is close to 13 million people.

Nicknamed "The City of Angels", the Los Angeles metropolitan area is the third-highest economic center in the world behind New York and Tokyo. Los Angeles is one of the most diverse cities in terms of demographics in the United States and benefits from one of the mildest climates.

The average temperature is 66 degrees during the year with an average high of 75 degrees as the city receives on average just 35 days of precipitation.

Not only do residents in Los Angeles enjoy year-round sunshine, but they can drive from the beach to the mountains or to the desert within a two-hour drive.

With the many activities and attractions available in the area, Los Angeles has not only been a destination for many tourists, but one of the best cities in the world to call home.
